

probed further, and clicked on this item, we were taken to a page that began with an invitation to visitors to "... learn more about the history, struggles and contributions of African Americans in the United States through our twice-weekly posts which include interviews and archival video footage," as well as several brief and informative videos pertaining to Black History. We would like to see similar information on San Diego Unified School District's website, and would again, encourage the district to do more.

The San Diego NAACP Education Committee is ready to assist the district, and provide suggestions for acknowledging and celebrating Black History during the month of February, and throughout the entire year. Please provide the contact information for the person(s) that we should contact in order to rectify this issue, as we would like to begin assisting them as soon as possible. Lastly, please contact the San Diego NAACP Education Committee via e-mail at education@sandiegonaacp.org. Thank you.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Clovis Honoree', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Clovis Honoree
President, San Diego NAACP